

THE FARMERS STATE BANK

STATEMENT.

Condensed Financial Statement.
Close of Business Sept. 1, 1910.

RESOURCES
Loans and Discounts	$1,000,000
Over Drafts	200,000
Furniture and Fixtures	1,000,000
Cash and St. Exchange	60,000,000
Warrants, etc.	2,000,000
Total	8,000,000

LIABILITIES
Capital	$ 25,000.00
Surplus	1,000,000
Undivided Profits	1,000,000
Reserve for Taxes	100,000
Deposits	1,000,000
Total	8,000,000

J. S. MARTIN, Cashier.

Opening in Philippines Ends.

By Associated Press.
Manila, P. I., Sept. 1.—The uprising in the province of Negros Visayas, led by Simon Mandar, former governor of Negros Visayas collapsed today when Mandar, who had been seized by the people of the province among whom he had sought to stir up trouble, was turned over to the constabulary. The natives cooperated with the government authorities in rounding down the disturbers.

Warning to Public.

I have two notes, given to L. F. Parsons, and I want to warn the public not to purchase these notes, as I will not be responsible for the same.

J. M. WILLIAMS,
Miles, Okla., 113-224.

Mrs. Nona Harlow Crawford's new song, "My Oklahoma Sweetheart," has just been received from the publishers. Mrs. Crawford is the author of both the words and music and this song will no doubt become as popular as the "Visita Waltz," which she composed by Mrs. Crawford some time ago. The words are full of sentiment and with its beautiful flowing melody it will probably be one of the greatest song hits of the year.

In driving over the city I find that it has been sadly neglected. A great many lawns are a patch of weeds—woods are growing along the sidewalks to places higher than my head, and the weed patch back of the court house is a disgrace to any community. Why are these things allowed? If we have a law, why not enforce it? Our health fully depends upon the cleanliness of our city.

MRS. GEO. KAPP.

Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. A. McDonald, the pastor evangelist of our presbytery, will preach both morning and evening. I wish each member of our church and congregation would endeavor to be present at both services. Morning service, 11 a.m.; Sunday school, 10 a.m.; Christian Endeavor, 1 p.m.; evening service, 8 p.m. I was glad they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord.

W. O. DAVIS, Pastor.

Dr. H. A. Witcher and wife, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wilson, left this morning for Sweet Springs, Mo.

ELEPHANTS ARE COMING WITH YANKEE ROBINSON SHOWS.

A peculiar feature of the elephant herd with the Yankee Robinson Shows is the fact that two of them have long tusks. This is the only pair of elephants with a circus having the long tusks. The balance of the herd are females and have no tusks. Queen, the largest female elephant ever known, is the mother of them all and everyone in the herd does just about as she tells them. Queen heads the herd in the parade and she rules her people, as you will notice. Little Tom, the small elephant with the long tusks, is a bad boy sometimes. During parade he is apt to notice a banana stand and make for it, grab some of the fruit and get back into the parade before the keepers notice him. He is young and like all youngsters he does not understand that it is a crime to steal bananas and apples. When you go through the menagerie tent have them point out little Tom to you.

ALL IN READINESS FOR BIG CONGRESS

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 3.—The official program for the second national conservation congress to be held in St. Paul, Minn., September 5 to 9 follows:

MONDAY, SEPT. 5

Morning.

Illustrated lecture, "Personal and National Thrift," Bernard N. Baker, Baltimore, president of the national Night Rev. John Ireland Bishop of St. Paul; address of welcome on behalf of the state of Minnesota, by Gov. A. G. Blackett; address of welcome on behalf of the city of St. Paul, Mayor Herbert P. Kelley; address by the President of the United States, "Our Public Land Laws"; United States Senator Knute Nelson, Minnesota, chairman committee on public lands, United States senate.

Afternoon.
Appointment of presiding officer; conference of the governors of the states; addresses by governors.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 6

Morning.
Invocation, the Rev. Henry C. Swenning, pastor First of Hope church, St. Paul; routine business; "Conservation—True Progress," Mrs. Elizabeth T. Scott, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, "Saving Our Boys and Girls," Ben R. Lindsey, judge of the juvenile court, Denver, Colo.; "The Conservation Program," Gilbert Fischer, president of the national conservation association and former United States forester; report of committees.

Afternoon.

Appointment of presiding officer; "Conserving the Principle of the Red Cross," Miss Nellie Boardman; "Safeguarding the Property of the People," Francis J. Heney of California; general discussion; "The Prevention of Power Monopoly," Herbert Koenig, commissioner of corporations; general discussion; "The franchises as a Public Right," Herbert E. Hadley, governor of Missouri; general discussion; "Water as a Natural Resource," R. A. Fowler, Phoenix, Ariz., president national irrigation congress; "The Development of Water Power in the Interest of the People," George C. Pardee, former governor of California.

Evening.

Illustrated lecture on "Big Game," Arthur Radcliffe Dugdale, New York.
WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 7

Morning.

Invocation, the Right Rev. Samuel Cook Edson, Bishop of Minnesota; routine business; "National Taxation of Resources," Dr. Francis L. McVey, president University of North Dakota; "The Interest of the Railways of the South in Conservation," W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway; "Laws That Should be Passed," U. S. Senator Francis G. Newland, Nevada; discussion led by Mardo McKenzie, Trinidad, Colo.; "Making Our People Count," Dr. Edwin Boone Craighead, president Tulane University, New Orleans, La.; "The Press and the People," D. Austin Latshaw, of the Kansas City Star, Kansas City, Mo.; "Woman's Influence in National Questions," Mrs. Emma Crocker of Massachusetts, chairman conservation department, General Federation of Women's Clubs; reports by the conservation committee of national organizations.

Afternoon.

Routine business; appointment of presiding officer; "The Farmer and the Nation," Walter H. Page, editor World's Work, and member of the Country Life commission; "Farm conservation," James Wilson, secretary of agriculture; "Cattle, Food and Leather," U. S. Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver, Iowa; general discussion led by Congressman Frederick C. Stevens of St. Paul; "Conservation and Country Life," Prof. Liberty Hyde Bailey, Cornell University; "Soils, Crops, Food and Clothing," James J. Hill, St. Paul; general discussion led by Henry Wallace, editor Wallace's Farmer, Des Moines, Ia.

Evening.

Illustrated lecture on birds, Frank M. Chapman, curator of birds, American Museum of Natural History, New York.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 8

Morning.

Invocation, the Rev. Hans G. Stub, St. Paul, secretary Lethbridge Seminary; routine business; "Pan-American Conservation; a Great Opportunity and Responsibility," John Barrett, director-general Pan-American union; "Conservation as a World-Wide Question," by a representative of a foreign government; "The Young Man and Our Future Nation," United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana; "This Continent as a Home for Our People," Dr. W. J. McGee, department of agriculture; "The Forest and the Nation," Henry S. Graves, United States forester; "Life and Health as National Assets," Dr. F. F. Westbrook, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, representing the American Medical Association.

Afternoon.

Routine business; appointment of presiding officer; "The Stake the Business Men has in Conservation," Alfred L. Baker, chairman Chicago committee, national conservation association; "The National Resources Belong to the People," James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior; general discussion led by George C. Pardee, former governor of California, and Newton C. Blanchard of Shreveport, La.; "Our Resources as the Basis for Business," Wallace D. Simmons, St. Louis, Mo.; "Are We Mining Intelligent?" Thomas L. Lewis, president United Mine Workers of America; "Education and Conservation," Dr. Elmer Ellsworth Brown, United States commissioner of education.

Evening.

Illustrated lecture, "Personal and National Thrift," Bernard N. Baker, Baltimore, president of the national conservation congress.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 10

Morning.

Invocation, the Rev. Henry C. Swenning, pastor First of Hope church, St. Paul; routine business; "Conservation—True Progress," Mrs. Elizabeth T. Scott, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, "Saving Our Boys and Girls," Ben R. Lindsey, judge of the juvenile court, Denver, Colo.; "The Conservation Program," Gilbert Fischer, president of the national conservation association and former United States forester; report of committees.

Afternoon.

Appointment of presiding officer; conference of the governors of the states; addresses by governors.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 11

Morning.

Appointment of presiding officer; "Conserving the Principle of the Red Cross," Miss Nellie Boardman; "Safeguarding the Property of the People," Francis J. Heney of California; general discussion; "The Prevention of Power Monopoly," Herbert Koenig, commissioner of corporations; general discussion; "The franchises as a Public Right," Herbert E. Hadley, governor of Missouri; general discussion; "Water as a Natural Resource," R. A. Fowler, Phoenix, Ariz., president national irrigation congress; "The Development of Water Power in the Interest of the People," George C. Pardee, former governor of California.

Evening.

Illustrated lecture on "Big Game," Arthur Radcliffe Dugdale, New York.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 7

Morning.

Invocation, the Right Rev. Samuel Cook Edson, Bishop of Minnesota; routine business; "National Taxation of Resources," Dr. Francis L. McVey, president University of North Dakota; "The Interest of the Railways of the South in Conservation," W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway; "Laws That Should be Passed," U. S. Senator Francis G. Newland, Nevada; discussion led by Mardo McKenzie, Trinidad, Colo.; "Making Our People Count," Dr. Edwin Boone Craighead, president Tulane University, New Orleans, La.; "The Press and the People," D. Austin Latshaw, of the Kansas City Star, Kansas City, Mo.; "Woman's Influence in National Questions," Mrs. Emma Crocker of Massachusetts, chairman conservation department, General Federation of Women's Clubs; reports by the conservation committee of national organizations.

Afternoon.

Routine business; appointment of presiding officer; "The Farmer and the Nation," Walter H. Page, editor World's Work, and member of the Country Life commission; "Farm conservation," James Wilson, secretary of agriculture; "Cattle, Food and Leather," U. S. Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver, Iowa; general discussion led by Congressman Frederick C. Stevens of St. Paul; "Conservation and Country Life," Prof. Liberty Hyde Bailey, Cornell University; "Soils, Crops, Food and Clothing," James J. Hill, St. Paul; general discussion led by Henry Wallace, editor Wallace's Farmer, Des Moines, Ia.

Evening.

Illustrated lecture on birds, Frank M. Chapman, curator of birds, American Museum of Natural History, New York.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 8

Morning.

Invocation, the Rev. Hans G. Stub, St. Paul, secretary Lethbridge Seminary; routine business; "Pan-American Conservation; a Great Opportunity and Responsibility," John Barrett, director-general Pan-American union; "Conservation as a World-Wide Question," by a representative of a foreign government; "The Young Man and Our Future Nation," United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana; "This Continent as a Home for Our People," Dr. W. J. McGee, department of agriculture; "The Forest and the Nation," Henry S. Graves, United States forester; "Life and Health as National Assets," Dr. F. F. Westbrook, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, representing the American Medical Association.

Afternoon.

Routine business; appointment of presiding officer; "The Stake the Business Men has in Conservation," Alfred L. Baker, chairman Chicago committee, national conservation association; "The National Resources Belong to the People," James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior; general discussion led by George C. Pardee, former governor of California, and Newton C. Blanchard of Shreveport, La.; "Our Resources as the Basis for Business," Wallace D. Simmons, St. Louis, Mo.; "Are We Mining Intelligent?" Thomas L. Lewis, president United Mine Workers of America; "Education and Conservation," Dr. Elmer Ellsworth Brown, United States commissioner of education.

Evening.

Illustrated lecture, "Personal and National Thrift," Bernard N. Baker, Baltimore, president of the national conservation congress.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 10

Morning.

Invocation, the Rev. Henry C. Swenning, pastor First of Hope church, St. Paul; routine business; "Conservation—True Progress," Mrs. Elizabeth T. Scott, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, "Saving Our Boys and Girls," Ben R. Lindsey, judge of the juvenile court, Denver, Colo.; "The Conservation Program," Gilbert Fischer, president of the national conservation association and former United States forester; report of committees.

Afternoon.

Appointment of presiding officer; conference of the governors of the states; addresses by governors.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 11

Morning.

Appointment of presiding officer; "Conserving the Principle of the Red Cross," Miss Nellie Boardman; "Safeguarding the Property of the People," Francis J. Heney of California; general discussion; "The Prevention of Power Monopoly," Herbert Koenig, commissioner of corporations; general discussion; "The franchises as a Public Right," Herbert E. Hadley, governor of Missouri; general discussion; "Water as a Natural Resource," R. A. Fowler, Phoenix, Ariz., president national irrigation congress; "The Development of Water Power in the Interest of the People," George C. Pardee, former governor of California.

Evening.

Illustrated lecture on "Big Game," Arthur Radcliffe Dugdale, New York.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 7

Morning.

Invocation, the Right Rev. Samuel Cook Edson, Bishop of Minnesota; routine business; "National Taxation of Resources," Dr. Francis L. McVey, president University of North Dakota; "The Interest of the Railways of the South in Conservation," W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway; "Laws That Should be Passed," U. S. Senator Francis G. Newland, Nevada; discussion led by Mardo McKenzie, Trinidad, Colo.; "Making Our People Count," Dr. Edwin Boone Craighead, president Tulane University, New Orleans, La.; "The Press and the People," D. Austin Latshaw, of the Kansas City Star, Kansas City, Mo.; "Woman's Influence in National Questions," Mrs. Emma Crocker of Massachusetts, chairman conservation department, General Federation of Women's Clubs; reports by the conservation committee of national organizations.

Afternoon.

Routine business; appointment of presiding officer; "The Farmer and the Nation," Walter H. Page, editor World's Work, and member of the Country Life commission; "Farm conservation," James Wilson, secretary of agriculture; "Cattle, Food and Leather," U. S. Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver, Iowa; general discussion led by Congressman Frederick C. Stevens of St. Paul; "Conservation and Country Life," Prof. Liberty Hyde Bailey, Cornell University; "Soils, Crops, Food and Clothing," James J. Hill, St. Paul; general discussion led by Henry Wallace, editor Wallace's Farmer, Des Moines, Ia.

Evening.

Illustrated lecture on birds, Frank M. Chapman, curator of birds, American Museum of Natural History, New York.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 8

Morning.

Invocation, the Rev. Hans G. Stub, St. Paul, secretary Lethbridge Seminary; routine business; "Pan-American Conservation; a Great Opportunity and Responsibility," John Barrett, director-general Pan-American union; "Conservation as a World-Wide Question," by a representative of a foreign government; "The Young Man and Our Future Nation," United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana; "This Continent as a Home for Our People," Dr. W. J. McGee, department of agriculture; "The Forest and the Nation," Henry S. Graves, United States forester; "Life and Health as National Assets," Dr. F. F. Westbrook, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, representing the American Medical Association.

Afternoon.

Routine business; appointment of presiding officer; "The Stake the Business Men has in Conservation," Alfred L. Baker, chairman Chicago committee, national conservation association; "The National Resources Belong to the People," James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior; general discussion led by George C. Pardee, former governor of California, and Newton C. Blanchard of Shreveport, La.; "Our Resources as the Basis for Business," Wallace D. Simmons, St. Louis, Mo.; "Are We Mining Intelligent?" Thomas L. Lewis, president United Mine Workers of America; "Education and Conservation," Dr. Elmer Ellsworth Brown, United States commissioner of education.

Evening.

Illustrated lecture, "Personal and National Thrift," Bernard N. Baker, Baltimore, president of the national